OUR STORIES: EDU-DRAMA

The Edu-Drama uses visual images, representations and expressions to tell a story. It is a unique teaching and learning methodology that enhances and inspires understanding of the complexity of societal issues and educates audiences by promoting critical thought in more meaningful techniques in the 21st century.

Our Edu-Dramas will be presented in a panel discussion format by women from various walks of life. Sharing our unique stories is a way of bringing women together through visual imagery, storytelling and music. Through our collective consciousness, we will present positive images and messages for the future generation of women as they navigate life's challenges. During the presentation and the finale, we will pass torches to the present and next generation as a symbolic representation of our tribulations, trials and triumphs.

Edu-Drama Producer/Director: Tamu Chambers, Professor of History, Philosophy and Social Sciences, Hudson Valley Community College.
